Situation looks hop... for Physician's Recruitment Committee

During the past few months, the Elk Point Physician's Recruitment Committee has been working hard on two fronts: the renovations to the Doctor's Clinic and former Nurses' Residence, and the recruitment of another doctor for Elk Point.

The work on the Nurses' Residence has been completed, with a suite furnished for a locum, and the Doctor's Clinic is now being refurbished.

On August 22, the Minister of Health and the College of Physicians and Surgeons declared Elk Point as having an emergency medical situation. The Committee has been working with the Lakeland Regional Health Authority and appreciate the help Dareld Cholak, Chairman of the Authority, has given them.

The approval means the Committee now can recruit doctors who have not received their licence in Alberta, but upon having their credentials evaluated and approved as well as passing an evaluation procedure by the College of Physicians and Surgeons, will then be able to practice in Elk Point. Mayor Ed Buck, Chairman of the Physician's Recruitment Committee, was pleased to announce that the Committee met August 23 with a doctor who received his licence outside of Alberta, and who wishes to come to Elk Point. The doctor's credentials will now be reviewed by The College of Physicians and Surgeons.

"The Committee will continue to recruit doctors, as we believe our town and area can support at least two, if not three doctors," Buck said.

Goulet honored for rescue

Two men who came to the rescue of six people when a small boat overturned on Kehewin Lake, May 25, have been honored by the Elk Point RCMP for their efforts.

Riverview resident Mitch Goulet and Alex Serniak of St. Paul heard the boaters' cries for help and quickly went to assist them. The victims were all wearing life jackets but were suffering from hypothermia due to the cold water temperatures.

The RCMP urge all boaters to know the boating regulations and to follow the rules of water safety: wear life jackets, know what the maximum weight capacity of your boat is and do not exceed it, know the capabilities of your vessel and if it can withstand rough water conditions, and always be prepared for emergencies. Wear clothing suited to the weather and know that weather conditions can change quickly. If your boat does capsize, stay with it until you are rescued, unless you are very near shore. Clothing and cold water can greatly reduce your ability to swim any great distance.

CERTIFICATES OF APPRECIATION were presented by Cst. Chris de la Giroday, Elk Point RCMP, to Mitch Goulet (centre) and Alex Serniak for their part in the rescue of the unfortunate boaters.

CFEP grants will assist two local volunteer-based groups

Two Community Facility Enhancement Program grants totalling $100,000 were presented to Elk Point organizations recently by MLA Paul Langevin. The Elk Point Golf and Country Club is putting their allotment of $50,000 toward the improvements to the golf course, while the $50,000 given to the Elk Point and District Agricultural Society will go toward paying down the Association's debt load.

Langevin feels that growth in the Elk Point area has increased the need for facilities such as are provided by these volunteer groups. "To use some lottery dollars to give CFEP grants, is a way to encourage these volunteers and support them in their community work. As the MLA, I am always concerned that we will drain these volunteers, and if we lose our volunteers, we will lose our community spirit."

Unlike the massive grants available before the tightening of provincial purse strings, these grants "are a very small part of projects," Langevin said. "The groups have to be very accountable for the way the funds are spent, and are screened very closely." He emphasized that the grant funds "do not come from tax dollars," but rather from the province's lottery earnings, and the amounts available "have been reduced greatly. In this area, $50,000 is the maximum you can put your hands on."

One reason to invest these grant funds in Elk Point is that "it is one of the few rural communities that has grown. The people moving in from other areas look at the amenities a community has, because it is these things that make life valuable. We want to keep the community growing."

Bridge construction scheduled for September

Motorists travelling between Elk Point and St. Paul will experience travel interruptions and delays for the next few weeks. Alberta Transportation and Utilities is replacing the bridge over the Atimoswe Creek, seven miles west of the junction of Highway 41 and Highway 28.

Construction is expected to start this week and and is anticipated to be completed by the end of of October. During the construction, a two lane detour will be constructed around the site. Speed restrictions will be in effect and drivers are urged to use caution.

Second annual Jamboree a huge success

The second annual Fort Des Prairies Jamboree, held at Fort George and Buckingham House Interpretive Centre on Sunday, August 25, was a resounding success, attracting approximately 40 entertainers and an excellent crowd to enjoy them.

Entertainment started promptly at 1 p,m. with the fiddle and keyboard stylings of Ray and Jeannette Letourneau of St. Paul, and ended five and a half hours later with songs by Fran Sinclair, all the way from Prince George, BC.

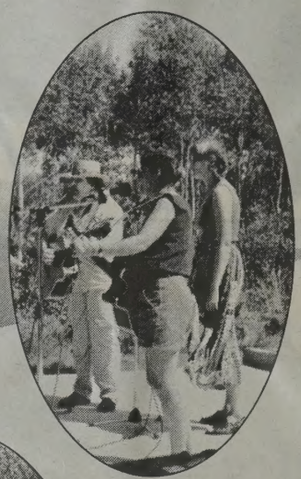
In between was music and song for every taste, from bluegrass to oldtime country, to the latest hits, plus original compositions, tall tales and cowboy poetry. Karen Doyle was the Mistress of Ceremonies.

Local entertainers included Lori Aarbo; Gwen Morris, Debbie Lawrence and Mathilda Furger; Jerry Aherne, John Drobot, Vicki Brooker, Roy Scott, Walter Anderson, Peggy Fidler-Zaraska, Orville Swedgan, Eddie Poitras, Andrew Pearson, Gus Dion, Gabe Bayduza,Rob Holliday, Marge and Dennis Heffernan. Those from further afield included Maurice Dubeau, Jim Howse, Adelard Bilodeau, Albert Livingston, Bill and Nadia Loza, Peter and Jocelyn Erasmus, Clarence Smith, Gordon Collins, Neil and Natasha Semeniuk, Bertha Lemley, Connie Axel, Jeff Reiter, Ole and Claire Erickson, Harry Hryniw and Chris and Anne Wakeland.

A special highlight of this year's show was a Bullshooting contest, with Walter Anderson topping the field of five storytellers which also included Bill Loza, Gordon Collins, Ed Zaraska and Adelard Bilodeau,

A door prize of two beautiful Barb Green prints was won by Charlie Carrier of St. Paul.

Friends of the Forts President Frank Mayner closed the show with thanks to all the performers, remarking, "Five and a half hours-- isn't that terrific?"



LINDBERGH SONGSTRESSES Debbie Lawrence, Mathilda Furger and Gwen Morris entertained with contemporary country music.

GIRL NEXT DOOR -- Lori Aarbo, who grew up next door to the fort sites, came home to thrill the audience with her vocal talent.

THE VOYAGEUR SONG, which was written for the Bicentennial, was performed by its author, Rob Holliday, along with Gabe Bayduza, Marg and Dennis Heffernan.

WAIT FOR THE WAGON -- John Drobot brought his minature horses along to take the kids for a ride.

From the FCSS desk...

The kids are back in school!

By Deanna Easthope
FCSS Director

Kids are back in school and once more "reading, writing and arithmetic" will be on their minds. Oh happy day!

It is a time to set goals for the school year, a time to renew old acquaintances and meet new friends. It truly is a happy time for our children.

Once again we ask motorists to drive carefully during school times as children are back on the streets. Then, when they come home from school, oh, the news and stories they excitedly tell their parents. A happy, sharing time. It feels good to savor this first day of back to school for our children.

Realistically, we know that for some children, the excitement and happy feelings of the first day of school will change as they days go on. There are many reasons for this. But, as parents and teachers of our children, if we all stay in tune, we can be supportive to our children as they learn. When you think of it — we live in a beautiful country and we have many opportunities. One of these opportunities is that our children can go to school. Plus, we as parents, have the freedom to support our children.

For moms and dads, for those opportunities in our community that exist outside of school time — come to "Information Night" as coordinated by the FCSS Office. It will be held on Tuesday, September 17 in the Elks Hall, from 7 to 9 p.m. ll clubs and organizations of special interest will have display tables. It is free, and Popcorn the Clown will be present to spend time with the children.

As I was composing this article, an old song came to my mind:

"School Days, School Days,
Dear old Golden Rule Days,
Reading and writing and 'rithmetic,
Taught to the tune of the hickory stick,
You were my queen in calico,
I was your bashful, barefoot beau,
You wrote on my slate,
'I love you so,'
When we were a couple of kids."

Playschool news

By Sha Tichkowsky
Playschool Instructor

Hello there! Once again it is time for the Playschool year to start. As a new instructor, I am really eager to meet the children and get the year underway. I have done some room rearranging and began decorating for fall. Soon winter will be upon us but we will be sure to enjoy the fall while we can. Mother Nature comes out of her dressing room in all her glory, and we here at Playschool plan to take in the show!

As the program is set up in Thematic Units, our first unit will be, naturally, the Autumn Season. We will be taking walking trips around the town of Elk Point to take in the changing seasons. I also have many fall crafts planned, such as leaf collages and leaf rubbings, to best use what Mother Nature has offered us. In October, our units will be Thanksgiving and Halloween. This is always an exciting holiday for the students and we will be having a "HOWLING" good time.

Our philosophy is "Learning Through Play." Playschool offers a save and supervised environment for a child's social, emotional, cognitive and motor development, as well as giving parents a much deserved break! If you require more information, please feel free to call me at either the classroom at 724-2400 or at home at 635-2144. Or better yet, pop in to our Registration and Information Evening in the Playschool room at the Elementary School on September 4 between 7:30 and 9:00 p.m. Members of the board and I will be there to answer any questions you might have. Hope to see you soon. First day of Playschool is September 17!!!

View Points

Off to a fresh start

With the arrival of September, many groups and organizations are getting a new season underway. What is your group doing this year? What are your group's aims and objectives, pet projects and plans for activities?

Getting the word out on the community's organizations is one of the major aims of the annual FCSS Information Night coming up on Tuesday, September 17. Many groups will have representatives on hand to spread the word about their plans for the fall and winter.

Another way your group can do this is to appoint a club reporter when you are electing your new executive. The Review would be happy to get some news from your organization on a regular basis.

And don't forget our Community Calendar, so we can help keep the community in touch with what's coming up in Elk Point and district. Give us a call!

A SPECIAL PRESENTATION — The Town of Elk Point, represented by Curt Svendsen , presents Rollie Gascon with a cheque for $3,500. The money comes from the recreation grant, and will help the Elk Point Golf Club pay for its utilities.

4-Her attends Conservation Camp

Elk Point 4-H Multi Club member Claudia Naber was among 65 Alberta 4-H members who participated in the 31st annual Conservation Camp from August 18 to 23, 1996. They spent the week examining the issues affecting our environment.

Nature trails, fern glades and scenic Battle Lake surround the Alberta 4-H Centre. Situated 60 kilometres west of Wetaskiwin, it's the ideal setting for Conservation Camp. The camp is jointly sponsored by Alberta Power and Trans Alta Utilities Corporation.

]As participants arrived, they were presented with an environmental case study featuring the fictitious 4-H Ranch. It's for sale and there are several interested buyers: ranchers, corporate farmers, investors, fish and game enthusiasts, forester, environmentalists and recreation developers. Camp participants prepared a plan for the operation and development of the 4-H Ranch using the "Five is One" theme. The week's resource team consisted of specialists from Weyerhaeuser Canada, Alberta Environmental Protection, Alberta Agriculture, Food and Rural Development and the camp sponsors. Exploring the Centre's diverse ecosystems, these Alberta experts provided practical knowledge on five topics: soils, water, fish and wildlife, range management, and forestry.

At the end of the week everyone participated in a mock developmental hearing judged by the field experts. "After five days, they're aware of the complexity of making real-life environmental decisions," says Carol Sullivan, Camp Director. "During the role-playing they applied the information they learned. Then we encourage them to take the conservation message into their local clubs and communities,"

Since 1975 the camper who best spreads the conservation message after attending camp receives the Grant MacEwan Conservation Award. Conservation Camp participants have until April 15, 1997 to submit their applications for the award to the 4-H Branch office in Edmonton.

Nutrition notes

Have you had your snacks today?

By Julia Painchaud
Dietician, Elk Point Health Centre

Snacking, or grazing, is an important addition to a healthy lifestyle. Snacking is simply eating small amounts of food throughout the day.

Weight control can be easier when snacking is incorporated into a meal pattern. This is because hunger never becomes so overwhelming that a need to binge is felt. Once the point of over-hunger is reached, it is hard to make nutritious food choices and to control the amount of food eaten.

Snacking helps to keep the metabolic rate up; therefore you may burn more energy when at rest just by spreading out your food intake. Energy levels are maintained by snacking and there is less of a desire to have a nap after eating.

Ideas for snacks: Almost anything goes. Try to stick with snacks that are low in fat and high in fibre and nutrients. Try fresh fruit, raw veggies, low fat muffins, bagels, low fat crackers, low fat yogurt,m low fat cheese, skim or 1% milk, sandwich, popcorn, baked tortilla chips and salsa, pretzels and rice cakes. Even plain low fat cookies such as arrowroots, tea biscuits or homemade cookies can be part of a healthy snack.

Snacks that contain high amounts of sugar can cause blood sugar levels to change, leaving you feeling tired and ready for a nap.

Snacking is especially important for children since they have smaller stomachs and are not able to eat a large amount of food at once. Snacking is encouraged as part of a healthy lifestyle for everyone.

What's news at the library?

The top ten from Camp Readsalot

By Michele Duczek
Librarian

Now that summer is officially over and the kids are back in school, here are the top ten things that were neat about the Camp Readsalot Summer Reading Program and summer at the library in general:

10. The iron-on transfers with the CAMP READSALOT logo.

9. The field trips to Fort George and Buckingham House and the wild strawberries we found.

8. The water fight the Thursday group held one hot summer day.

7. The "ghosts' we hung on the walls of the program room (they're still there if you want to take a look).

6. The Friday afternoon matinees

5. Blowing bubbles.

4. Storyteller Merle Harris and her many tales.

3. Doing an exercise video at 3:30 a.m. during the overnight camp-out.

2. Air conditioning during the hot spell at the end of August.

And the number one neat thing this summer at the library:

The peanut butter rice krispie squares!!!

(Recipe now available at the library)

Some other neat things at the library were the new books that arrived regularly. Here are a few of the latest:

Computer: A History of the Information Machine by Martin Campbell-Kelly and William Asprey traces the history of the invention of the computer, focusing on the role that business and government played.

Jack Ryan unexpectedly finds himself the president of the United States and everyone thinks they can take advantage of him in Executive Orders by Tom Clancy.

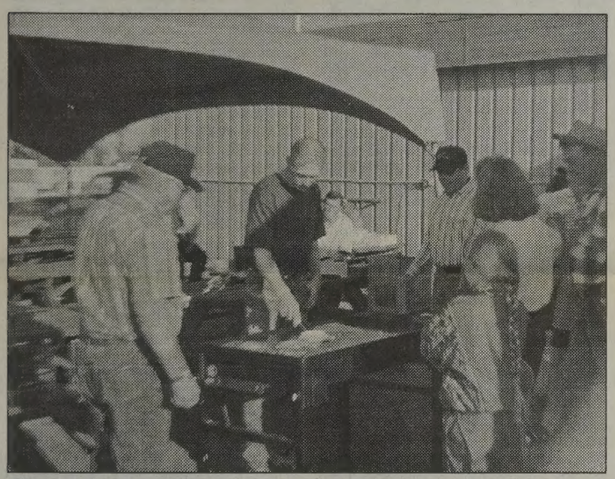
A deputy U. S. Marshal finds herself taken hostage by a charming bank robber newly escaped from prison in Out of Sight by Elmore Leonard.

A series of suspicious accidents plague the International Ballooning Club and Frank and Joe investigate before someone gets seriously hurt in Sky High from the Hardy Boys Casefiles.

Garfield, Tons of Fun by Jim Davis is the 29th book about America's favorite grouchy cat.

Some critics have been calling The Golden Compass by Philip Pullman a classic in the tradition of Tolkein's The Lord of the Rings. This is the first book in a proposed trilogy.

LIBRARY CALENDAR:
Friday, September 6, 1996 — Storytime begins again on Friday mornings at 10:30 a.m.



BREAKFAST TIME AT UFA -- C. J. Petroleums hosted a great pancake breakfast on Sunday, August 25, with food, fun and prizes, not to mention an entertaining foot race, which we hear will be repeated next year.

By Connie Capjack
Elk Point Agricultural Society

On Saturday, August 24, the Elk Point Agricultural Society Fairgrounds and Livestock Division's 9th Annual Horse Show was well attended by over 60 entries, and again a great success.

This years Junior Hi-Point Blanket, sponsored by critters Feed and Livestock Supply was won by Lana Graham, riding Dakota's Sunset, and runner-up was Danielle Schnurer riding Little Par Leo. The Youth Hi-Point Blanket sponsored by Bailey's Western Wear was won by Asley Larson riding E.T. Tivio Peppy San and runner up was Kristen Kelm riding Ju Jos Showtime. The Senior Hi-Point Blanket sponsored by Cobra Energy Consultants was was won by Marion Ryan riding Panda, and runner-up was Kim McMinis riding Mini Max.

A very special thank you goes to Hughie Krucik, our show secretary who keeps things running smoothly, Charlene Baker, our announcer for the day, who kept the show running on time, and who provided all the help to get the show started, and Shanna Baker, our ring steward who helped the judge keep things on track for all the classes. Special thanks to Norma Lorenson for looking after the concession and bringing all her goodies, Daphne Schnurer, our gate steward who kept track of all classes and competitors, Rhonda Osinchuk, Chris Shankowski and Shauna Campbell, our gate stewards, Debbie Kilby, who helped at the registration table and took pictures for the paper, and Brian Schnurer who got the arena ready before and during the show, and finally our Judge, Tim Mirreault of Bon Accord for an excellent job.

Our show would not be possible if not for our local sponsors and businesses that keep supporting us every year. Major sponsors included Shamrock Valley Enterprises, Reid's Welding Inc. and E-Can Oilfield Services, who sponsored the judge and ribbons, etc., along with Footprints Subs and Arcade, Lakeland Security, Vincent Building Supplies and Rangeland Plumbing.
